PAUL MUSSON NAMED CIAU SOCCER ALL CANADIAN

Concordia's Paul Musson, a 25 year-old midfielder from Montreal, has been named to the CIAU soccer All-Canadian team for 1987. Musson is a third year Business Administration student and was the captain of the first place QUAA Concordia Stingers.

"Paul has got the kind of attitude which tends to rub off on his teammates," says head soccer coach Andy Onorato. "This year he led a team with a lot of untried rookies and they looked up to him".

Musson, who was named All-Canadian in 1985, finished the season with seven goals. Being a midfielder, Musson set up more goals than he scored. Musson is known for his strong leadership quality and knowledge of the game.

"Paul is a true leader and there is no player in Quebec under 30 who has a better understanding of the game" says Coach Dwight Kennedy.

Musson hopes to continue with coaching and pursue a career in Finance.
